25X1 [redacted]

CONFIDENTIAL

25X1 4. [redacted] LIAISON Met with Ed Braswell, Chief Counsel, Senate Armed Services Committee, and I agreed to provide him some information regarding the details required in the Presidential Findings under Section 662 of the Foreign Assistance Act, as amended.

I also picked up from Jack Ticer, of the Committee staff, the 26 June 1972 transcript before the Committee.

I left with Braswell the 26 September 1975 Reserve Release letter.

25X1 5. [redacted] BRIEFING In the company of Ernest Zellmer and Ev Hineman, DDS&T/OWI, met with Richard Perle, Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, Senate Government Operations Committee, to review the deletions in the 11 February 1975 transcript before the Arms Control Subcommittee of Senate Armed Services Committee, recommended by the Director in his 26 September 1975 letter to Senator Henry M. Jackson (D., Wash.). Perle was very understanding and Zellmer and Hineman were very persuasive, particularly 25X1 with respect to removal of sensitive matters involving sources and methods. [redacted] but on the latter areas he took a number of exceptions and realizes that he must look beyond Mr. Colby for justification of rationale to support such deletions. He agreed to send us a transcript with the deletions agreed to to assure that they satisfy the Director's responsibility for sources and methods and the other matters will be referred to appropriate officials in the NSC.

Perle also asked, for Senator Jackson, if we had any information that the Soviets were violating the treaty on chemical and biological agents as referred to in the Beecher store in the Boston Globe.

25X1 6. [redacted] CONSTITUENT In the absence of 25X1A Mr. Miller, took a call from Representative Bill Nichols (D., Ala.) who asked if I could arrange a personnel interview for a constituent of his by the name of [redacted]. An interview was set for today
25X1A at 2:00 p.m. with [redacted]

25X1 10. [redacted]) LIAISON Met with Senator Milton Young (R., N. Dak.) and his Administrative Assistant, Bill Wright, and provided them with a draft reply to the letter from Hal Simons, of THE FORUM. Wright had also prepared a draft reply which paralleled our paper to an amazing degree--in fact it was much more critical of Simons than our letter. It did contain some inaccuracies however, which I called to their attention. I left with the impression that Wright will combine some of the points of our letter with his draft in the final version that goes to Simons.

25X1 11. [redacted] LIAISON In response to his request, met with Jim Gehrig, Professional Staff Member, Senate Committee on Aeronautical and Space Sciences, who explained in further detail the briefing they would like for the new Staff Director, Gilbert Keyes, at Headquarters sometime next week. He introduced me to Keyes and then mentioned they were considering writing a letter to NASA asking for information on Soviet space failures, but wanted to talk with us about it in advance. He said he assumed NASA would come to us for the information. I told him I would talk with Carl Duckett, DDS&T, about this but I expected if anything was to be released it should be by the Agency directly and not through NASA. I added I was not too optimistic that much could be done about this. I said I would be back in touch with him on a date for the briefing session.

25X1 12. [redacted] LIAISON Met with Guy McConnell, Senate Appropriations Committee staff, and covered a number of items with him including: our suggested reply for Senator Milton Young (R., N. Dak.); a copy of our letter to Chairman George Mahon, House Appropriations Committee, on the budget and the Director's Reserve Release letter of 26 September; and mentioned the request we had received from the Senate Select Committee for specific information including the amounts of funding of covert action programs.

25X1 13. [redacted] LIAISON Met briefly with Clark McFadden, General Counsel, Senate Armed Services Committee, and revised the information previously given to him concerning our review of the Director's SALT testimony before the Arms Control Subcommittee of 11 February 1975. I told him that we had decided to provide our deletions to Chairman Henry Jackson and let him reach his own conclusions on the basis of those deletions. (The issue of deletions made because of diplomatic and similar negotiations is still unresolved.)
